*More Fines Revenue collected and tracked efficiently
We've tracked and discovered that the first year we used
Intouch for fines, we collected 40% more fines revenue!
The second year, and subsequent years, we collected 20% more in fines revenue, and 20% more books returned. This is HUGE!"*

FOLLET DESTINY LIBRARY INTERFACE

Sends and receives updated fines information daily to and from Destiny. Fines are available to pay on TouchBase for web when parents get home each night. Both systems are fully integrated, eliminating the need for duplicate entry.

BUSINESS JUSTIFICATIONS

Seamless integration from library system to InTouch Receipting

- No writing of fine slips
- No sending and inputting fine slips by librarian or bookkeeper

Posting to fine ledgers and TouchBase automatically

- Communication to parents more timely and more accurately
- Parents can run fine reports and either get the book returned or pay the fine locally or on line

Shows up in InTouch terminal without user intervention

- Allows for standard fine adjustment
- Allows for standard fine payment

InTouch sends payments and clearing back to library system—no double entry!

PROCESSING CONSIDERATIONS

Nightly process from library to InTouch Receipting

- InTouch sees any adjustments to exiting fines
- InTouch will not allow the same unique fine reference to be imported after it has been processed by InTouch

- The library fine will appear as a site fine like any other fine entry

Nightly process from InTouch Receipting to the Library software

- InTouch sends payments to library
- InTouch sends return information to library
- Business rules

BUSINESS RULE

- Money can only be from InTouch or TouchBase, no monies collected in the library system (no need to!)
- Fine adjustments can be made at either InTouch or the library system
- Only lost books-type fines are processed, not late charges at $x.xx per day
- Library system sends a reference and title and amount for InTouch to place in memo fields, as a normal fine with G/L routing

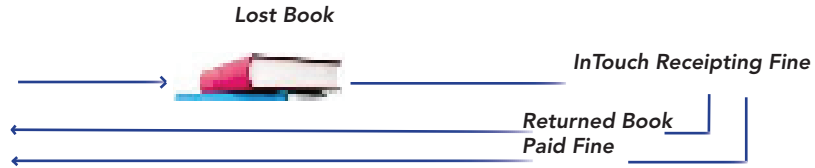

SOFTWARE REQUIREMENTS

- Library system compliant with opportunity
- InTouch module
